WE NEED VOLUNTEERS!

Have fun, meet new people, and be a part of making Taste of Cambridge happen. We still need volunteers. Give a couple of hours or a whole day. Sell tickets, help with the contests, clean up, more. Email office@cambridgemainstreet.com or call 443.477.0843.

100th anniversary of Powerboat Regatta means a blockbuster weekend July 22-25

The 100th anniversary of the Cambridge Classic Powerboat Regatta, the oldest active in-board powerboat race in the country, happens July 22-25! The event has inspired a crab feast, a major concert, and a block party, so get ready for an action-packed weekend.

Cambridge will host the first-ever running of the Triple Crown (World, Canadian, and U.S. Summer National Championships) in the nation. Event organizers expect more than 150 race teams—as well as thousands of fans, boaters, and their families here for the event, which will be held at Great Marsh Park. Free admission to watch the races! Food and drinks will be available. Schedule:

Thursday: Organized testing 10am-5pm

Friday: Elimination heats 10am-5pm

Saturday: Elimination heats 10am-5pm

Sunday: Finals noon until 4pm

The pit area will be open so you can look at the boats and talk with the race teams. The races will be broadcast live on MTS's ESPN 1240 AM station.

There will be some big events downtown in conjunction with the regatta. See below. More info: www.cpbra.com.

Farmers' Market at the height of summer season

News from the Main Street Farmers' Market:

- The market is testing out the idea of expanding to Tuesday mornings. Stop by, 8am-noon, at Academy and Muir Streets downtown. The market also happens on Thursdays, 3-6pm.
- The Farmers' Market now has an official sign! Thanks to Kevin Davidson of Backfin Antiques for donating his talents to paint the sign, Bob Sellers for donating the wood, and the Department of Public Works for installing it.
- Thanks to our market's generous vendors, who give leftover produce to Food Link, which is delivering it to food pantries at Delmarva Community Action Center and Unity-Washington United Methodist Church in Hurlock. The food goes to people in need.
- Tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, blueberries, peaches—they're all at the market these days. It's a great time to stop by!

Green Team working hard for downtown Cambridge

Cambridge Main Street's Green Team has been doing an incredible job these last couple of weeks, with hardworking volunteers spending hours (many of them in the midst of the heat wave) weeding, trimming, and generally cleaning up city-owned beds so they look their best. A huge thank you to: Brian Roche, Dan Brandewie, SiSi Wills, Meredith Lathbury, Patrick Hurley, Mark Ross, and Nancy Sharp. Thanks also to Nancy Snyder and the Wednesday Morning Artists for sprucing up Cannery Way.

THE BUZZ

- 1 Gotta like it when the National Trust for Historic Preservation gets in touch to learn more about the nationally significant and under-appreciated role Cambridge played in the civil rights movement. Looks like the Trust is sending two folks down this month to learn more!
- 2 The winners from June's Second Saturday drawing are Nancy Malwitz and Susan Lauer (who won Taste of Cambridge tickets) and Adam Parks and Connie Barnett (who won Annie Oakley Barn Dance tickets)!
- 3 We hear that artists are hard at work on creating some spectacular mosaics for the Main Street Gallery's third annual mosaic show, Pieces of the Path, which opens in early August. Details at cambridgemainstreet.com.
- 4 More Green Team action: A special thanks to Lois Kampinsky and Brian Roche for their diligent work preparing a grant application for the Chesapeake Bay Trust that may enable Main Street to plant more trees in our downtown this fall.
- 5 Congratulations to the Dorchester Drama Guild and the Dorchester Center for the Arts for all the rave reviews on their two sold-out performances of the musical, Stairway to Heaven.

Why your support for our downtown is now more important than ever

Many thanks to the dozens of generous individuals, families, and businesses who have sent annual donations in support of Cambridge Main Street in recent days. Ever since our mailing went out, the response has been amazing. (If you didn't receive a request, don't worry—some donors are on a spring renewal schedule, while others will come up in the fall.)

Such donations are more important than ever to the work we do on behalf of our downtown. The City of Cambridge budget for the fiscal year that began July 1 includes zero direct support for the work of Main Street and its volunteers. Support for several other nonprofit groups was eliminated from the city budget as well.

"We appreciate the city's past support, and we hope that they will renew that support in future years," said Jim Duffy, Main Street's executive director. "Nationwide, some 90 percent of more than 1,700 certified Main Street programs receive support from local governments, so programs like ours are recognized all over the country as a solid investment."

In the meantime, our Main Street volunteers are developing plans to deal with the budget shortfall created by this development. Should we ask more of our neighbors to join in and support us? Can members of the business community or local foundations be of assistance? Are there different events that we can do?

Anyone with the expertise or enthusiasm for helping us sort through such questions is welcome to join volunteer project teams now taking shape. Just send Jim Duffy a message at office@cambridgemainstreet.com or call him at 443.477.0843.

C H A I R

CHAIR/ITY!

Come to Chair/ity Bash July 9

Join in the fun and fabulous 'Chair/ity' bash at the Main Street Gallery on Friday, July 9. Artists have transformed old chairs into wonderfully imaginative artworks for the July exhibit, "Chair/ity." Many of the chairs will be auctioned off during a benefit party Friday, July 9, 6-9pm at the gallery, to benefit local nonprofit arts organizations. Tickets cost $25. Reserve your spot by sending an e-mail to office@cambridgemainstreet.com. Show continues through Aug. 2.

Unusual collaboration debuts July 10

Experience an unusual collaboration among Danny Doughty, the folk artist who creates the original painting; Joyce L. Fritz Ritz, the artist who brings the characters to life through sculpture; and Bob Ritz, the artist who creates the world the characters live in. Be there for the premiere of this exciting new work, 5-8pm, July 10 in the Danny Doughty Gallery, inside of Joie de Vivre Gallery.

Main Street Gallery: This month, it's all about chairs and "chair/ity." See above. Show continues through Aug. 2. Gallery is open Wed.-Sat., 12-4pm. 413 Muir Street

DANNY DOUGHTY

Danny Doughty Gallery: Don't miss the debut of a unique artist collaboration among Danny Doughty and Cambridge artists Joyce Fritz Ritz and Bob Ritz. The Ritzes transform Doughty's paintings into three-dimensional sculptures. The work will debut Saturday, July 10, 5-8pm. See story at left. Step into another time and place at this gallery featuring folk art and metal work. At the back of Joie de Vivre Gallery. 410 Race Street

Dorchester Center for the Arts: Contemporary abstract art by three artists: Paintings by Judy Hintz Cox, woven sculptures and wall hangings by Heidi Wetzel, and paintings by David Grafton. Plus glass mobiles by Sue Rena Curtis displayed in the front window. Free reception to meet the artists Saturday, July 10, 6-8pm, with live music by Betty Boda, celtic harp, and light refreshments. 321 High Street

Joie de Vivre Gallery: Featuring the wall sculptures, furniture, and more of direct metal artist Paul Lockhart. Stop by and meet some of the gallery's featured artists during Second Saturday, 5:30-7:30pm, July 10. 410 Race St.

PAUL LOCKHART

Gallery 447: "Studioworks," featuring the work of Eastern Shore artists whose studios ring this spectacular second-floor gallery. Artists include Maureen

Farrell, Mary Ann Schindler, Heidi Clark, and Sarah Stolte. Opening reception 6-8pm, Saturday, July 10. 447 Race Street, 2nd floor

Also, don't miss paintings of Shore life and sports memorabilia prints at Wright's Art & Framing. George Wright's work hangs in Cooperstown's Baseball Hall of Fame and the Maryland Senate. 111 Maryland Avenue

Plus, see the work of waterfowl artists at Chesapeake Classics.

CRABS!

A few crabby items that caught our eye downtown, just in time for Taste!

This extraordinary crab was exquisitely carved from one piece of wood. Stunning detailing front and back! Created by Hoopers Island waterman Dorsey Shockley, whose work is on display for the first time at Chesapeake Classics, 317 High St.

Love these vintage-style signs that Kevin Davidson paints. See them at his shop, Backfin Antiques, 411 Washington St.

Got crabs? Available at Sunnyside as a fun magnet (with $1 of each sale going to Cambridge Main Street) or on t-shirts! Get yourself and your fridge decked out for crab season!

Crabs and Cambridge meet on this towel at A Few of My Favorite Things. You'll also find crab knives, crab-picking soap, crab platters, crab aprons, even a cute little crab sugar cookie mix!

Stunning metal crab sculptures by talented direct metal artist (and Dorchester County resident) Paul Lockhart, at Joie de Vivre Gallery.

BARN DANCE!

Aug. 6 kick-off to Wild West Festival benefits Cambridge Main Street

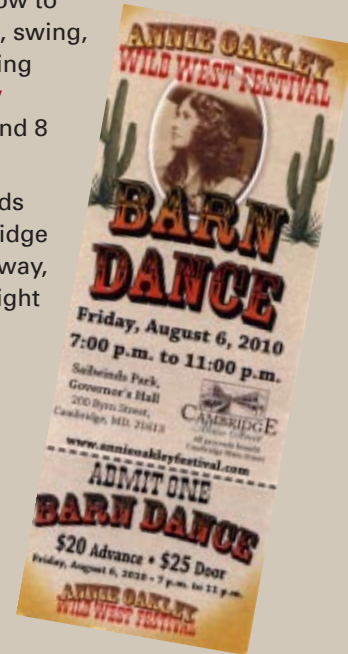

Love great music? Love to dance? Then don't miss the Annie Oakley Barn Dance on Friday, August 6! The Oklahoma Twisters, a terrific western swing band out of Virginia, will have you up and dancing—or at least tapping your feet. (Don't know how to dance? See below!) We're talking two-steps, swing, waltzes, polkas, and more. This is the opening night event for the first-ever Annie Oakley Wild West Festival happening August 7 and 8 in Cambridge.

Bonus: The organizers are donating proceeds from the Friday night Barn Dance to Cambridge Main Street! Wow! (The organizers, by the way, also put on the wildly fun and successful Night of 100 Elvises in Baltimore, which benefits Hopkins Children's Hospital.)

The Barn Dance is 7-11pm, August 6, at Governor's Hall at Sailwinds Park. Tickets cost $20 in advance; $25 at the door. Buy them at Jimmie & Sook's, 421 Race St.

As for the rest of the Annie Oakley Wild West Festival, also happening at Sailwinds, it happens Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 7 and 8. Free admission! Great family fun, from cowboys and Native Americans to great music including more of the Oklahoma Twisters, Arty Hill & the Long Gone Daddys and Denver's Liz Masterson & Western Serenade.

Don't know how to two-step? Learn how on July 23!

What's a Barn Dance if there's no dancing? Make sure you're out on the dance floor and ready to go by taking a quick and fun two-step dance class at 7pm, July 23, at the Main Street Gallery, 413 Muir Street. There's space for a few more couples. Reserve your spot at office@cambridgemainstreet.com or 443.477.0843.

John Barth historic marker: Hundreds of people joined Cambridge native and author John Barth (shown here in tie) on June 12 to unveil a historic marker in his honor on library grounds at 303 Gay Street in Cambridge. Winner of the National Book Award and F. Scott Fitzgerald Award for Outstanding Achievement in American Fiction, Barth was born and raised in Cambridge. The Barth sign, developed by the Dorchester County Friends of Library, is the first in Dorchester County to honor a literary figure. During the ceremony, Barth was also presented a key to the city of Cambridge by Mayor Victoria Jackson-Stanley.

John Root Hopkins work on display: Folk artist John Root Hopkins welcomed visitors to his new gallery within Joie de Vivre Gallery during June's Second Saturday celebration. His work has been displayed at the Visionary Art Museum in Baltimore.

DID YOU KNOW?

Main Street puts on nearly 40 events a year. Second Saturdays, Taste of Cambridge, Summer Sendoff, Farmers Market, and more!

Mosaic show returns for third year

An annual arts tradition in Cambridge! The third annual mosaic show, "Pieces of the Path," begins August 6. This multi-site exhibit, centered at the Main Street Gallery, features mosaics crafted by top regional artists. Works shown at several galleries and numerous outdoor sites, including an 84-foot mosaic mural. Special free artist receptions at the Main Street Gallery on August 14, 5-8 pm, and September 11, 5-8 pm. Show runs August 6-September 25, 2010. For more on the gallery, go to cambridgemainstreet.com and click on "Main Street Gallery."

Gone to the crabs! Main Street's Promotions Committee goes all out to spread the word about Taste of Cambridge—even dressing up in silly crab hats and costumes! A big thanks to all our hard-working Taste planners—and thanks to Jimmie & Sook's for lending us the crab suit!

HOW YOU CAN HELP DOWNTOWN CAMBRIDGE

Cambridge Main Street is all about making our community a more vibrant, fun place to live and a more successful place to do business. Here's how you can help:

Become a Supporter. Join the businesses, individuals, and families who help our downtown by making an annual tax-deductible donation to Cambridge Main Street. Giving levels begin at the $100 Stakeholder level. Learn more at www.cambridgemainstreet.com.

Become a Friend. The Friends of Cambridge Main Street is a special giving category designed to boost connections between Main Street and the individuals and families who love our downtown events and are loyal to our downtown shops. The Friends giving category begins at just $50. Learn more at www.cambridgemainstreet.com.

Volunteer. Cambridge Main Street has just one employee, so much of the work we do depends on the efforts of volunteers. There are countless ways you can contribute. For more information, email office@cambridgemainstreet.com or call 443.477.0843.
